MAT/Post-Baccalaureate Teacher Certification Programs

Welcome to Rider's Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT)/Post-Baccalaureate Teacher Certification Programs. The program exists in part-time evening and full-time accelerated versions. In both versions, the MAT/Post-Bac program is an educator preparation program designed for professional and idealistic adults. Successful completion of the program leads to an initial teacher certificate, the NJ Certificate of Eligibility with Advanced Standing (CEAS) in the intended area of study. Taking additional courses through the Department of Graduate Education, Leadership, and Counseling can lead to the 30-credit Master of Arts in Teaching degree.

Once accepted through Rider University's Graduate Admissions, candidates work with program faculty advisors for course work, field work, and course registration for Fall and Spring semesters when required courses run. There are two summer sessions for additional and MAT courses as well.

The MAT/Post-Baccalaureate Teacher Certification Program is part of the Department of Graduate Education, Leadership, and Counseling within the College of Education and Human Services (CEHS). The Post-Baccalaureate Teacher Certification Program is designed for college graduates seeking initial NJ teacher certification. This is a streamlined, rigorous, and sequential program of professional studies that combines the best of theory, research, and practice. The Post-Baccalaureate Teacher Certification Program is a 21 or 24 (depending on certification area) graduate credit program. Coordinated with the CEHS Office of Field Placement, the clinical experience (student teaching and seminar) at the end of the program requires full-time enrollment for one semester and successful completion of the NJ-required Teacher Performance Assessment (TPA).

ADVISING AND COURSE REGISTRATION

Schedule appointments for advising, course registration, and graduation with MAT/PBTC Director (kpierce@rider.edu). Enrollment periods typically start in mid-October and mid-March.

ACADEMIC AND PROFESSIONAL REQUIREMENTS

Candidates should demonstrate commitment to the program and teaching profession by attending all classes, punctually completing assignments, writing in clear English prose, reflecting critically and constructively on educational experiences, and demonstrating professional interpersonal skills and dispositions like diplomacy and diligence throughout the program and in field settings.

In addition, all candidates must maintain a grade point average of 3.0 throughout enrollment in the program and before enrolling in the culminating Clinical Experience and Seminar in accordance with GELC Department Policy. One of the marks of a true professional is the ability of the practitioner to make decisions that are based on sound theory, research findings, and promising practices. Good intentions and academic background are essential to becoming a teacher, but they are not sufficient. Professional educators possess knowledge and skills in the areas of learning theory, human development, instructional methods, curriculum planning, and classroom management. Satisfaction and success in the profession depend largely on your ability to actively learn, apply, and reflect on these ideas and skills.

THE PROCESS: GRADUATE ADMISSIONS, TEACHER CERTIFICATION, MAT DEGREE

- Apply to the MAT/PBTC program through Graduate Admissions.
- Meet NJ testing, GPA, and subject matter requirements for teacher certification.
- Accept admission through Graduate Admissions.
- Contact MAT/PBTC Program Director/Advisor Dr. Pierce to register for classes. Decide when/how to take MAT classes. MAT classes are drawn from various programs in the Department of Graduate Education, Leadership, and Counseling. Candidates in the MAT/PBTC design their own purposes and trajectories through the program.
- Take and enjoy classes. Maintain GPA. Visit classrooms, talk to teachers and colleagues about students, schools, and trends in the field. Reflect upon and develop your own philosophy of teaching.
- Accept/open LiveText account when CEHS sends email invitation to our web-based assessment and e-portfolio management system.
- Visit Career Services and revise resume to reflect program and certification area.
- Apply for clinical student teaching with the College of Education and Human Services' (CEHS) Office of Field Placement and Certification. For your full-time student teaching semester:
 - The Office will place you in your student teaching assignment and assign you a Rider Field Supervisor to visit with you six times during student teaching.
 - You will plan, record, analyze instruction and student learning in writing, and submit your Teacher Performance Assessment (TPA)—required performance assessment for NJ certification.
 - The CEHS Office of Field Placement and Certification Coordinator will verify your teacher certification eligibility among the Post-Baccalaureate faculty and the Rider Registrar, then nominate you to NJ Department of Education for certification.
- If/when you earn your 30-credit MAT degree, you will graduate from the Department of Graduate Education, Leadership, and Counseling in Rider's College of Education and Human Services.

FIELD PLACEMENT AND STUDENT TEACHING

The CEHS Office of Field Placement will arrange your field placement, student teaching supervision, and TPA. Teacher certification in New Jersey is granted by the New Jersey State Department of Education (NJ DOE) and by similar state agencies in other states. Upon the successful completion of your certificate program, the College of Education and Human Services through the Office of Field Placement and State Certification will notify the NJ DOE that you have successfully completed an approved teacher education program and nominate you for certification. The NJ DOE will then issue you a Certificate of Eligibility with Advanced Standing (CEAS) <https://nj.gov/education/license/>.

OUT-OF-STATE TEACHER CERTIFICATION

Because Rider's Post-Baccalaureate Teacher Certification (PBTC) program is nationally-accredited, you should have no trouble seeking reciprocity for your teacher certification in another state if necessary. Of course, you will need to contact the state, apply for teacher certification, and comply with the state's specific requirements for certification.

WHAT IF I AM ALREADY TEACHING FULL-TIME? The Supervised Clinical Experience in Teaching (CURR 771) is available only to candidates seeking initial teacher certification and who currently work full-time teaching. On-campus or site-based seminar accompany the clinical experience and emphasize the reflective development toward professionalism through sharing and analyses of supporting the learning needs of diverse students and connecting clinical experiences with content knowledge and pedagogical knowledge from prior course work. Candidates must apply to the Program Director (kpierce@rider.edu) for Supervised Clinical Experience in Teaching (CURR 771) by providing evidence of successful, full-time teaching experience, planning, and evaluation. Once the supervised clinical semester is approved by the MAT/Post-Baccalaureate program director for the upcoming semester, candidates may continue teaching within the appropriate certification area, complete the required TPA, and work with a Rider field supervisor for a semester. CURR 771 Application

NJ Alternate Route/PTP candidates enroll in CURR 772 Seminar.

NJ SUBSTITUTE TEACHING CREDENTIAL AND CRIMINAL BACKGROUND CHECK (CBC)

We recommend that you apply directly to the NJ Department of Education for your substitute teaching credential. It would be beneficial to have a school district "sponsor" through the application process with NJ, so check with a local district. The Criminal Background Check (CBC) is included as part of the application process for the substitute credential. Many schools require the CBC for field visits and observations, and all require clearance for the clinical experience in student teaching.

GRADUATION

Your post-baccalaureate program completes with earning your initial NJ teacher certification. Should you go on or return for the 30-credit Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) degree, the program culminates in graduation and awarding of the degree. The MAT program director advises and clears the way to graduation and confirms that requirements are satisfied to the University Registrar. Please review the links below regarding Graduation information. If you have any other questions, such as, when to apply for graduation, please contact the Registrar's Office.

CEHS MISSION STATEMENT AND CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK

The College of Education and Human Services prepares students to be effective practitioners. Rider was the first private New Jersey institution to hold the highest accreditation possible in teaching from the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education/Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (NCATE/CAEP). This national accreditation in turn offers graduates added value and recognition nationwide when seeking employment or admission to graduate study. The College has created partnerships with local schools, businesses, and government and community agencies so that students work collaboratively to develop high-quality programs. The conceptual framework of the College of Education and Human Services establishes the shared vision for our efforts in preparing educators to work effectively in P-12 schools. It provides direction for programs, courses, teaching, candidate performance, scholarship, service, and unit accountability.

Our conceptual framework informs the process by which we develop and articulate our goals, ensure that administrators, faculty, P-12 partners, and candidates work toward the same set of articulated goals, and encourage professionally sound commitments and dispositions. Implemented in a variety of ways, the conceptual framework is evident in all parts of the professional education unit. The conceptual framework consists of four distinct goals:

Goal 1: Commitment

Commitment is a value highly prized by the College of Education and Human Services, serving as an essential cornerstone for our teaching and learning. Commitment is a set of connected attitudes, values, and beliefs that result in professional behaviors expected of dedicated educators. In teaching and practice the faculty models these professional behaviors and encourages and expects their development in our students and graduates.

Goal 2: Expanding Knowledge

In the College of Education and Human Services, we emphasize both content and pedagogical knowledge as we prepare our students. We design classroom and field experiences to help students learn this knowledge and apply it in practice. Students are expected to use their technological expertise as a tool in learning and to reference relevant standards when either planning for or reflecting on their own classroom work, as well as that with their own students or clients.

Goal 3: Reflection

The College of Education and Human Services defines reflection as the process of thinking clearly and deliberately to promote understanding and to actively foster the exercise of in depth thinking about professional practice. We believe that reflection, grounded in active experience, has value for developing educators, when practiced consistently and systematically through such activities as classroom observation, continuous self-assessment, and journal writing.

Goal 4: Professionalism

Becoming an expert professional educator requires a career-long commitment to reflective experimentation and skill building. Novice and experienced educators enrolled in the College of Education and Human Services are on a career-long path toward professionalism and are not viewed as totally developed and experienced professionals upon graduation. Our goal is to encourage students to become thoughtful, creative problem-solvers as they begin and refine the acquisition of craft and knowledge in their ongoing journey toward higher levels of professional success.
